m. Command sponsorship of family members to an overseas command (when sponsor is overseas).

4. Exceptions:

a. Army Physical Fitness Test (APFT):

(1) Flags for failure of the (APFT) block promotions, reenlistment, and extension only.

(2) A flag is not initiated if the soldier has a limiting physical profile that specifically prohibits the APFT if identified prior to the record test.

b. Weight Control Program:

(1) Flags for weight control block only attendance at full-time civil or military schools, promotions, assumption of command, and reenlistment or extension.

(2) Soldiers attending a civil or military school on the date of the flag will not be removed from such schooling.

(3) The Adjutant General may approve reenlistment and extensions under certain medical conditions as advised by the supporting command.

5. Adverse actions will include, but are not limited to, charges, restraint, investigation, court-martial, nonjudicial punishment, absent without leave, reduction, letter of admonition, censure, or reprimand not administered as nonjudicial punishment. The unit commander will initiate and remove these types of adverse actions.

6. The adjutant, executive officer, or commander is the only persons authorized to authenticate a flagging action. A separate flag will be initiated for each investigation, incident, or action. The commander directs the flagging action. The effective date of the flagging action is the date of the incident or the date initiated. The commander directs removal of the flag. The effective date of the removal is the day on which the soldier's status changes. Any flagging action will apply to all M-day, AGR, and technician soldiers. When a technician or M-day soldier are traveling and/or performing
